Adam,

Net performance for the TG Distressed Opportunities Fund LP (the “Fund”) is as follows:

April 2025	2025 YTD	S&P YTD	Bloomberg High Yield Index YTD
-3.05%	-3.21%	-5.31%	0.98%

We are currently raising capital for the Fund, a debt and equity fund primarily focused on selling short-dated credit protection on high-yield and distressed companies. Please find the latest tear sheet here.

We have identified three key aspects of our strategy that are resonating with investors:

- 1. Income Focused: Our portfolio prioritizes income generation through a combination of accounts receivable puts, credit default swaps, and undervalued public securities, supplemented by alpha-generating shorts and position-level hedges.
- 2. Deep Analysis: Our investment approach integrates both quantitative and qualitative assessments, including thorough fundamental, bottom-up research, and comprehensive credit analysis for every position we undertake.
- 3. Liquidity: We aim to maintain a highly liquid portfolio, with robust risk management practices implemented at both the position and portfolio levels.

I am available for a quick Teams meeting to provide additional information at your convenience.

Please let me know if you would like to explore this opportunity further.

Best regards,
Steve
